WHILE sharpening my pencil preparatory to writing about this collection of Roses, over the wireless came these words:—"Music is like a beautiful rose," an expression by Schubert—how true! Nothing touches our feelings quite like good music, and what flower of all the countless hundreds takes the place of the adorable Rose. Truly its in a class by itself. We never seem to have too many, and there is always room in our garden for a few more. Here is our contribution to your collection, and we are going to call it our

EDDY GARDEN SERVICE

11) GROWERS, IMPORTERS, DISTRIBUTORS
PARADISE, Lancaster Co., PENNA.

INTRODUCTION

To you who have previously done business with us, we need no new introduction—to those who for the first time receive our Spring Announcement, we merely add, that with almost a lifetime spent among “growing things” we have learned a little, and gladly pass on to you, our new friends the profitable part of our experience.

We do not attempt to grow or sell every kind and variety of bulb, plant or shrub that you may have seen or read about, but confine our business to the handling of the best in each class. Always, however, keeping in mind what “best” means to the greatest number of our flower-loving friends. Our selection for this season are among the most popular in their respective classes, but should you not find among them just the particular kind or named variety that you have set your heart on, write us. We may have it in stock, or possibly can supply it.

Terms:—Please remit with order, or in advance of shipping date. No orders sent C. O. D. We guarantee satisfaction, replace shipments, or refund. Personal checks accepted, but prefer Money Order or stamps for small amount.

Postage:—We prepay all mailing charges, except where noted. Express shipments sent collect, unless price includes delivery charges.

Ordering.—Do it Now. We can prepare your order before the rush season, give you a better selection, and insure your receiving exactly what you order, and when wanted.

During the “rush season” do not be over anxious if you do not receive prompt acknowledgement of your valued and appreciated orders and inquiries. Our first consideration will be to get that order promptly filled and mailed. We plan that it will be in your hands almost as quickly as an acknowledgement. All adjustments will be promptly made. Lost orders re-filled. Errors corrected—we're human. Complaints patiently listened to and quickly satisfied. In every way humanly possible it will be our aim to give you through the mails, as good, if not better service, than over the counter, and in many cases our quality will be superior, and our prices will be perhaps a little lower. Let's work together and all do our part in the brightening of the world with flowers.—Thank you.

Refunding.—All money received will be promptly refunded if goods ordered cannot be supplied in proper time for planting, and we are not given permission by you to substitute, or hold for future delivery if goods are sold out.

Privet California for Hedges

This well known and widely used hedge plant, needs no new recommendation from us it is now in general use, and its value for hedging purposes is greatly appreciated. It may be grown to any height, kept trimmed or allowed to develop and flower like any other shrub. It is generally called a hardy shrub and supposed not to winter-kill, but in very cold, or northern sections, the top has been known to winter-kill, but with a little trimming it quickly revives the following spring. On only two occasions during many years, have we known this to happen, but each season thereafter we have seen a better, closer and more stocky hedge.

A rapid grower, semi-evergreen, and one of our most popular, general purpose hedge plants. Our stock this season is particularly good, grown in the well-known Lancaster County soil, with strong root formation; well branched. 2-year stock, 18 to 24 inches. For hedging purposes, plants should be set 6 to 8 inches apart, this makes a thick solid hedge. Price per 1000, $40.00. 500 for $22.00. 100 for $4.50. By express, no charge for packing or crating. 50 for $3.25, or 25 for $2.00. Postage prepaid east of Mississippi River.

Barberry Berberis Thunbergii

A graceful, dense, low growing Shrub, and now widely used for hedging or grouping. Its extremely attractive appearance while in the green state, and during fall and winter when covered with bright red leaves and berries, adds greatly to its increasing value for home ground decoration. For best results, and finer appearance, it should never be trimmed: let nature have full sway and you will enjoy greater and more graceful beauty. 2-year old plants, 10 to 18 inches, per 100, $15.00, 50 at $8.25. By express, 25 Postpaid for $5.00. 12 for $2.75.

ROSES

The planting and care of Roses amply repays in the pleasure and joy we derive from their beauty, fragrance, and the share we have in "Brightening the World with Flowers".

OUR STOCK is hardy, freshly dug, well rooted, carefully mossed and packed. We guarantee safe arrival. Moisten roots and plant quickly for sure results. Named roses separately labeled

When Shipped: All roses are mailed at the proper season for planting in your territory. Do not be over anxious, better a little late than too early.

Postage. In comparing prices please remember we prepay all postage at prices quoted, unless noted.

CHRYSANTHEMUM

A Whole Garden of Shrubbery For Little Money

We have about twenty-five different kinds of Shrubbery. Many varieties not listed elsewhere, for the reason that we only have a limited quantity of each, and this special offer is made to those who are desirous of securing many kinds at low cost.

The size will vary somewhat from 18 inches to three feet, but all will be hardy, freshly dug flowering Shrubs, from one to three-years old. No two alike. Selection will be made from the following varieties:

ARALIA. Graceful, arching branches; greenish white fan-shaped clusters of flowers.

ARTEMISIA—Old Man. Very pungent old-time favorite; creamy white flower.

DEUTZIA—Crenata. Pride of Rochester. Early white flowering; flushed pink.

FLOWERING CRAB—Bechtel. Hardy, profuse bloomer; small, delicate pink, rose-like flowers; fragrant.

JASMINE—Nudiflorum. A hardy variety; small leaves; single yellow flowers.

LONICERA—Bush Honeysuckle. White and pink flowering, fragrant, spreading. We have three or four kinds. Pride of Rochester, Vanhouttei, Anthony Waterer, Tomentosa, etc.

SYMPHORICARPUS—Snow-Berry. Pinkish flowers; coral fruits; grows well in shady places.

TAMARIX. Irregular, feathery foliage; flowers of fine delicate pink on terminals.

RAMBLER ROSE. Assorted kinds. Lady Gay, Hawatha, Crispin, etc.; unnamed, our best choice.

We do not have space in which to describe more kinds, but in offering collections at this special low price, we reserve the right to substitute other named kinds if our stock of the above runs out.

Your Choice, or Our Selection: 10 for $2.50, or 5 for $1.50.

Postpaid anywhere; assured satisfaction.

ASPARAGUS

Our first early home garden vegetable, and how eagerly we look forward to the first cutting. Delicious, nutritious, medicinal.

Mary Washington. The best of the Washington family of three varieties. The newest production of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. Most disease resistant and rust-proof. FALL PLANTING BULBS

When our Holland Associate was here in December we planned our Bulb Importations for this coming Fall, and arranged to have him select and ship us the same high quality stock, that we have handled for several years.

We get first choice from among our group of growers, and there is now growing, and at digging time will be set aside for us only such bulbs as will meet our exacting requirements and standard.

Our first thought has always been to secure quality for our American trade, because after all what is a few cents on a bulb, as compared with magnificence of bloom, truthness in variety, and perfect satisfaction.

We would much rather sell, and are certain you prefer to purchase even a few choice bulbs, rather than buy questionable stock at lower cost. Please, therefore write for our Fall Bulb Book before you make selections for planting this Fall.
